Greenbridge joins Centiglobe Connect as Liquidity Provider, adding on-demand liquidity for network members

Stockholm, Sweden, 27 Aug 2026

Greenbridge Markets, an institutional liquidity provider for tokenized payments, and Centiglobe, a global member-based cross-border payment network headquartered in Sweden, today announced that Greenbridge Markets has joined Centiglobe Connect as a Liquidity Provider. The partnership gives members on demand access to liquidity in fiat cash and tokenized deposits.

As an independent Affiliate Member of Centiglobe Connect, Greenbridge enables Network Members – banks, PSPs and EMIs – to exchange the network's bank-agnostic tokenized deposits for fiat cash, and fiat cash for tokenized deposits. This gives members on-demand access to liquidity, helping reduce capital tied up in pre-funding and providing greater flexibility in when and how much liquidity they hold.

Greater flexibility in managing liquidity

Centiglobe Connect enables instant cross-border payments directly between Network Members, without intermediaries, through tokenization and blockchain technology. As payment flows develop, Members need flexibility to move between the network's bank-agnostic tokenized deposits and the fiat cash they collect from customers or use for local payouts.

Greenbridge adds an on-demand liquidity option for managing this exchange. Members can access the network's bank-agnostic tokenized deposits when needed to support outgoing payments or convert them into fiat cash to replenish liquidity. This gives Members greater flexibility in how they manage liquidity as payment volumes change.

"Greenbridge adds value to the network by improving access to liquidity for both sending and disbursing payments. This helps Members with limited access to liquidity and gives new Members faster access to the Centiglobe Connect Network. It also supports Members that, for various reasons, are unable to hold tokenized deposits on their balance sheets."

– Petter Sandgren, CEO, Centiglobe

"We are very excited to work with Centiglobe and members on Centiglobe's network to enhance simplicity, speed and transparency in these markets. Global payments are evolving and we are thrilled to be part of this transformation."

– Svante Hedin, CEO, Greenbridge Markets

The addition of Greenbridge comes as Centiglobe Connect continues to grow, with new members and partners joining the network. Greenbridge strengthens the liquidity options available as the network expands.

About Greenbridge Markets

Greenbridge Markets is an independent liquidity and conversion specialist for tokenized deposits and other forms of digital cash. We help institutions move value between fiat, tokenized bank deposits and, where appropriate, other digital-cash instruments, across rails that do not yet connect to one another.

We are a liquidity overlay grounded in traditional treasury, risk and markets discipline. Our team brings together decades of combined experience across electronic trading, market-making, fixed income and foreign exchange, drawn from major banks and market-infrastructure businesses. Our goal is to bring new market structure into institutional workflows without disrupting what already works.
